

Aloha . . . to my loved ones . . .

I've been wanting to write to you for some time; just didn't seem to get "around to it," until now!

But it is important to me, and hopefully, prayerfully, for you too. Why? Because I want you to remember me as one who told you all about the love that God has shown to me during my life. So I am sending this letter to you to let you know that you too can get to know of God's love applied to your life.

For me, it seems like I have always known OF God. When my Grandmother brought me to a child evangelist meeting in New York City when I was five, I didn't respond to the evangelist's invitation to know Jesus. In my mind, I already knew Jesus.

Certainly Jesus knew me. Looking back over my life I realized God had protected me on several occasions: one, as a three year old toddler alone, I safely crossed a four lane roadway; when I was seven, I came inches from death when a car screeched to a halt inches from my body; when I was seventeen, if my neck injury had gone only a quarter-inch more, I would have been dead!

While I was "God-conscious," I didn't always follow God's laws. I knew of them, but set them aside anyway. I also followed the lie that God helps those who help themselves. That led to a tragic divorce, pain, frustration, and bouts of depression through the years.

The divorce was heart-rendering and resulted in my realizing I had screwed up and needed God to help me. Thus, on January 7, 1973 I repented of my sins (crimes against God), and asked Jesus to take over my life. And that last thing was really hard!

In fact, that has been a battle, because I really didn't let God lead my life, and that has led me to classify myself as a C.I.N.O. ~ a Christian In Name Only!

But a few years ago, God really dealt with me. It was as if He said to me: "That's it! No more CINO for you. Let's get real now. I've waited long enough for you to get wise." Praise God He did!

My life changed! My priorities changed. I saw my breaking of God's laws through His eyes (and it wasn't pretty!) And I saw my responsibility to alert my loved ones to the reality of God's love and means of escaping Hell; a place where you do not belong.

What is so very stark in my perception of life now (it only took 80+ years!), and is truly the MOST important thing for everybody, is that we KNOW Jesus, and follow His laws in order to have a satisfying, successful life here, and an eternal life with Him in Heaven!

My wife and I are praying that your mind will be opened; opened enough to appreciate that the most important thing for your life is to KNOW Jesus!

SIGNATURE

P.S. You might want to check out: SharingGodsAloha.com. for articles, videos, and free stuff which will help you discover that God is perfect for your life!

P.P.S. Use the enclosed postcard to let us know how we can intelligently pray for you!